Tangala Evi is a beautiful renovation of a very old village house, and the creation of the lovely Gönül and her equally charming husband, Ahmet. They are passionate about Turkey's heritage and in particular that of Kayaköy and the Kaya valley. Their dream has been to discover the valley's unearthed jewels and to renovate these old ruins with complete empathy for their original heritage.

Tangala Evi is over 200 years old and the tasteful renovation has resulted in a comfortable and spacious one-bedroom house that simply oozes character. The thick original walls ensure that all the rooms remain cool in the summer and warm in the winter. The house is on the perimeter of a cluster of village houses and ruins set on a rocky outcrop.

Your welcoming village neighbours will happily deliver fresh eggs every day if you desire – we guarantee you'll never want a supermarket egg again!

The villa enjoys a peaceful location with fabulous uninterrupted views across the valley to the mountain-side in front and the 'ghost village' of Kayaköy in the distance. The setting alone is reason enough not to venture far, however, the unspoilt Gemiler beach is just a 40-minute walk or 10-minute drive away and the hidden delights of the Fethiye peninsula together with the more cosmopolitan attractions of the renowned beach at Ölü Deniz await your exploration.

Tangala Evi Layout

A path winds through an alley from the road to the villa or you can park your inclusive vehicle next to the villa up a steep drive.

The swimming pool and pool terrace are in front of the house and afford stunning views across the Kaya Valley towards the 'ghost village' of Kayaköy. Entrance to the house is through the terrace and provides a lovely spot in which to relax and dine in the evening.

GROUND FLOOR ONLY

The front door opens from the terrace – with al fresco dining area with seating for four people – into a comfortable sitting room with TV/DVD, CD player and iPod dock. A sofa bed suitable for a child is located in the sitting room.

Also on this floor are a fully-fitted kitchen, a charmingly designed shower/WC and a lovely master double bedroom. The private terrace has magnificent views across the valley and mountainside in front.
